Tips to Maximize Your Proposal's Selection:

- ✓ The Maryland Municipal League has increased the number of 30-minute “Snap” session slots on the summer conference agenda. Consequently, Snap session proposals are more likely to be selected by the CPC than breakout sessions of a longer duration.

- ✓ The CPC will not accept proposals for sessions that appear to be selling a product or service.

- ✓ The CPC is increasingly looking for creative workshop formats, including those that encourage interaction with and among participants.

- ✓ Subject matter and presentation styles should be directed primarily toward city and town elected officials, who constitute roughly 80% of MML’s annual conference attendance. The remaining 20% are municipal staff including managers/administrators, clerks, and department heads.
